Dear Participants,

I write to welcome all of you as SEASAC member schools to the New International School of Thailand, and indeed to the city of Bangkok. For those of you who are enjoying Thailand for the first time, I am sure that you will find Thai hospitality and NIST hospitality to be conducive to enjoying your stay.

This is the 14th year since SEASAC was formed and it has been a great privilege for NIST to have been involved since the outset of this organization. We are also very proud of our sports facilities at NIST and I hope that you will enjoy them and that they will enable you to participate to the best of your ability.

More importantly, I hope that you will simply enjoy the participation. Through this event you will make some good friends and establish some lasting friendships, and no doubt re-new some old acquaintances. The success of SEASAC is built around these very opportunities.

On this occasion I particularly welcome three new schools at the SEASAC swim event: Alice Smith from Kuala Lumpur; the Garden International School in Kuala Lumpur; and the Hong Kong Canadian International School. We very much look forward to your participation.

We also look forward to spirited competition, to sportsmanship, to commitment and to the challenge of the game.

Good luck to you all for a happy and successful carnival.

Sincerely yours,

SEASAC CONVENTION RULES AND REGULATIONS

The SEASAC convention rules and regulations are not posted in this program guide. It is the responsibility of the individual schools to inform the athletes of all rules and regulations. It is recommended that each athlete sign a declaration that they have read and understand these rules and regulations and that they are to be held responsible for knowing the penalties for rule and regulation violations.

Remember that all athletes must have signed and returned a medical release form to be used in the case of an emergency. According to SEASAC regulations all coaches are to hand over to the tournament director these medical release forms. There will be an emergency van from on campus throughout the tournament as well as a nurse's station at the swimming pool.
